Richard Vera

Richard Vera is a native of Ecuador who has been happily married to his wife, a Panamanian native, for 26 years. Together they have two children, ages 26 and 21, who currently live in New York City. Richard and his family relocated to New York in 2012 when his company transferred him from Miami. After living in Mamaroneck and Tuckahoe, they settled in Scarsdale in 2016. The family has been part of the St. Pius X community since 2011, drawn by the inspiring homilies of Father Sebastian. In 2022, Richard joined the Parish Council and began serving as Secretary the following year. He is deeply committed to supporting the parish and looks forward to continuing his service to the St. Pius X community.

Pauline O'Hanlon

Pauline O'Hanlon has been a dedicated member of the St. Pius X parish community for many years and is currently serving on the Parish Council, where she has been an active and engaged participant. She frequently volunteers as a Eucharistic Minister and generously gives her time to initiatives such as the Coat Drive. If you've attended the St. Patrick's Day Luncheon, you've likely enjoyed Pauline's delicious corned beef. Pauline is also involved in a variety of parish activities, including spiritual events like our annual Light Up the Night celebration. She serves on the liturgical committee and contributes to pastoral care efforts within the parish. Pauline looks forward to continuing her service to the community as she seeks a second term on the Parish Council.

Anthony Fiorenza

Anthony Fiorenza is a devoted member of the St. Pius X parish community, committed to serving with faith, integrity, and care for others. During his time on the Parish Council, he has focused on strengthening parish safety, supporting clear and effective protocols, and helping ensure alignment with Archdiocese guidance. He is also leading efforts to organize and digitize important parish records to better protect and serve the community. Anthony is seeking reelection to continue building a safe, faithful, and united parish for all.

Kenza Martin-Williams

Kenza Martin-Williams joined St. Pius X Church in 2023 after returning to New York with her husband and their two young daughters. She was raised in a Catholic, Caribbean household, which shaped her faith and strong sense of community from an early age. Kenza is a Registered Nurse and currently works in strategic operations for the Mount Sinai Health System. She is a Eucharistic Minister and lector, and her eldest daughter participates in religious education and the children's choir. While the children's Mass first brought her to St. Pius X, it was the genuine sense of belonging she found within the parish community that kept her coming back. As a member of the Parish Council, Kenza hopes to contribute her time and energy to strengthening the community and supporting the welcoming environment that has meant so much to her family.

Stephen Slaby

Stephen Slaby's first time at St. Pius X was for a funeral of a family friend in October of 2021. His family officially joined the parish in 2023. Stephen works for Westchester Independent Living Center (WILC). WILC is a non-profit organization that helps people with disabilities by providing advocacy, resources and information. Stephen started working at WILC in June of 2017, and has been the office manager there since March of 2023.

Lucy Chan

Lucy Chan has been part of the Westchester County community for many years and views leadership as an act of service and stewardship. Growing up in Hong Kong and later building her life in New York shaped her belief that strong communities are built through listening, empathy, and shared responsibility. After a multi-decade career at IBM and years of nonprofit leadership, Lucy's faith has become a more intentional and grounding part of her life. She hopes to bring that spirit, along with her experience and multicultural perspective, to help support a welcoming and connected parish community.

Dear Padre

May 31, 2026

During Mass, is it proper for the faithful to raise our hands when pronouncing the words, "For the kingdom, the power, and the glory are yours now and forever"?

When the priest and people offer the Our Father together to God, the presider assumes an ancient posture of prayer, known as the orans—with arms extended and palms opened upward. After the Lord's Prayer, the priest keeps his hands extended and says alone the embolism ("Deliver us, Lord..."). At the end, he joins his hands, and the people acclaim, "For the kingdom..." This acclamation is meant to be the people's response to the embolism, and the priest remains silent for it. It would appear unnecessary for the faithful to now extend their hands during this acclamation—especially when it's a response to an embolism prayer that just called for the presider to have extended his own hands and now has them joined together.

Although the General Instruction of the Roman Missal doesn't mention a specific congregational hand posture during this acclamation, it speaks in favor of "what serves the common spiritual good of the People of God, rather than private inclination or arbitrary choice," stating that a common bodily posture "is a sign of the unity of the members of the Christian community gathered together for the sacred Liturgy: it both expresses and fosters the intention and spiritual attitude of the participants" (GIRM 42). ●

Bag-2-School

We invite you to support our St. Pius X Parish Bag-2-School campaign and help make a meaningful difference. Many families are facing hardships, and their children deserve the opportunity to learn.

The good news is your generosity makes it possible to help these children in need. This year, we hope to continue supporting the following organizations:

- My Sister's Place: this wonderful organization strives to end domestic violence and human trafficking by providing free education, outreach, and confidential supportive and legal services throughout Westchester County. The goal is to send tablets and/or school supplies to the children at the shelter. The students and counselors would really appreciate our support!
- The Sharing Shelf's Backpacks to School: The Sharing Shelf has launched its annual Backpacks to School program to provide new backpacks and new school supplies to low-income children and teens in Westchester County. The organization plans to provide not just the basics, but enhanced materials such as age-appropriate educational magazines, puzzles, activity sets and books.
- Holy Spirit Church (Bronx): Underprivileged children in public schools under the Holy Spirit Church's (Father Gabriel's parish) religious education program need supplies for the upcoming school year. They are very grateful for your generosity
